RAYMOND RECORDER

THE RAYMOND LION

Inter-Club visiting is one of the most important features of Lionism. Many of our Lions do not get the whole perspective of our organization because they are not willing to go and see what the other Clubs are doing and thinking.

The local Club had a big job to keep up with Cardston's delegation that came to our Charter Night. They brought eighteen guests to our party in January and Rayo pledged that many in return. A week ago, Wednesday, February 21, we travelled to the Temple City to attend their Annual Charter Night. Rayo, M. T., Lyle Bigelow, Loran Larson, Reg. Cooper, Cliff Nalder, Maurice Cooper, Frank Leavitt P. K. Moreland and Leon Harker each with a lady—all attended their big party to make eighteen Raymond guests with a couple of our old Charter members to boot.

About 250 Lions, Lionesses, guests and officials enjoyed a very delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings. An entertaining program followed with the International Director, Ray Walter, giving the speech of the evening.

Our old friends and neighbors, Art and Violet Lund always expect Raymond Lions to come to Milk River Charter Night. They have attended all our Charter Night Parties and on Tuesday, February 27 Cliff Nalder, P. K. Moreland and Leon Harker, with their wives blazed down the highway to attend the Milk River Charter Night celebration. A flat tire along the way helped make the gang's arrival at the party a little late. About 100 people attended a very good supper, a short pithy program and mixed oldtime and modern dancing. Part of the group came from Glenwood in 37D. Bert Codd, Art Johnson and their wives came the long way. The Codds lived down that way for several years.

Governor Heber Merrill of 37C gave a fine message to Lions. It was short convincing and enlightning. Art and Violet were the Tail Twisters with the Cody Orchestra playing for the dance.

Shorty Kirstine of Edmonton has written to tell us that the Head Lion in the Canadian Association will be visiting in Southern Alberta about the middle of next month. Any Raymond Lion wishing to hear him may visit the Lethbridge Club's noon luncheon.

You can't find a Lion in town—or anybody else. If you really need someone stick around the Curling Rink for half an hour. They will probably be there six or eight times a day—or maybe all day and some of them all night. They are away to a good start —Raymond rinks are doing alright in the first rounds.

We hope they bring back the hardware.

Sickness is the cause for Hall's Barber Shop being closed this week.

Ladies Literary Club

The Ladies Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. T. Geo. Wood Wednesday evening with Mrs. I. B. Roberts retelling several interesting articles such as "The Abraham Lincoln Memorial Monument", 'Romance of Coffee' Ralph Bunche—Mediator" "Victory of an Untouchable" which was the story of the lowest caste East Indian. "A Will of Her Own", "There's Gold In Them Thar Quills" an article on Ostrich raising, "The Big Tree—Forest King". This was an article on the Sequoia tree—a tree which lives to be thousands of years old. The last article was on "How To Capture Life's Greatest Values"

Special guests included Shirley Anderson, LaVern Anderson, Jennie Vance Fanny McBride and Donna Spackman of Cardston.

A delicious lunch brought the very enjoyable evening to a close.

First Boxing Card Held

Raymond's first annual boxing card got away to a great start with a crowd of well over 600 boxing fans attending The card went smoothly with few delays. Boxers from Cardston, Magrath, Stirling, Lethbridge, Macleod and Raymond took part. There were 14 good bouts with Cardston fighters winning four, Stirling 3, Lethbridge 3, Magrath 2 and two Raymond fighters John Thompson and David Still emerged victorious..

The main bout of the evening saw Ralph Sabey of Magrath take the nod over Neil McKenna of Lethbridge.

Following is a list of the competitors, the first named was the winner:

60 lb Reed Hardy, Stirling – Val Issacson, Raymond.

70 lb Pat Clawson, Stirling – Morris Heggie, Raymond.

David Duncombe, Cardston – Burney Peters, Lethbride.

80 lb John Thompson, Raymond – Ron Murphy, Cardston.

90 lb Don Peters, Lethbridge – Jimmy Walker, Raymond.

100 lb David Still, Raymond – Bob Scott, Lethbridge.

Kay Nish, Cardston – Heber Perrett, Stirling.

118 lb Larry McClain, Magrath – Bob Woodward, Cardston.

Steve Gedresek, Stirling – Nick Peters, Lethbridge.

126 lb Grant Talbot, Lethbridge – John Gedresek, Stirling.

135 lb Darrel Albiston – Merlin Harrison, Magrath.

141 lb Chester Heavyrunner, Cardston – Jack Guild, Lethbridge.

147 lb Ralph Sabey, Magrath – Neil McKenna, Lethbridge.

160 lb Oscar Odney, Lethbridge – Wayne Sheer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zobell moved into their new home this week.

Red Cross News

Throughout the 37 year-old history of the Canadian Red Cross Society in Alberta, the people of the province have met many challenges, and has not been found wanting. During the First World War, during the depression of the "30's", during the Second World War and up to the present time Albertans have shown that they are Red Cross workers. No ideal has been too high-reaching for them to attain.

Because of the work it does, Red Cross must continue. It is Red Cross that gives Albertans free Blood Transfusion Service, Junior Red Cross, Disaster Relief, Outpost Hospitals, Veterans Aid, Swimming and Water Safety and care to their crippled children.

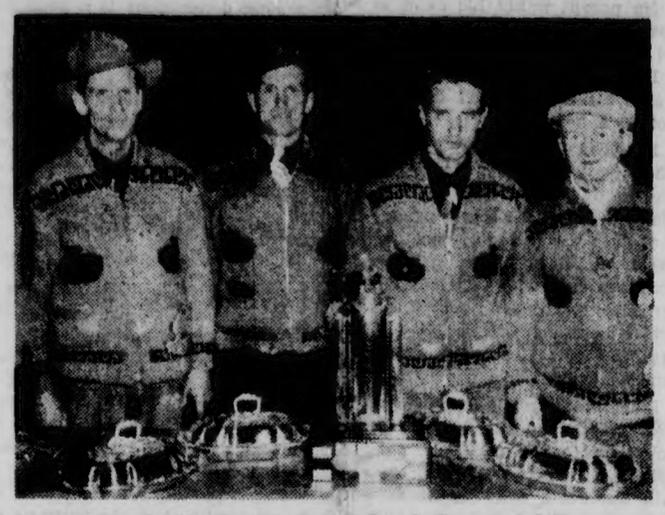
This work must be continued for the good of all. No one knows when disaster will strike, when illness will require bottles of blood and plasma, when the babe in your house will need orthopedic care beyond your finances

This year, Red Cross is asking Albertans to contribute $400,000 to continue its magnificent work. Red Cross is planning to spend in Alberta this year, a total of nearly $6000,000,00

The care of crippled children looms foremost in the minds of Alberta people at present for it is this year, on March 3rd, that Alberta's Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital will formally open its doors. Its support is up to Albertans, for while it is true that the hospital is necessary, it is equally true that we must not fail in helping pay its running expenses.

There is no more worthy work than that of Red Cross. When you contribute to its yearly campaign, you are merely paying a premium to ensure that the "work of mercy never ends."

Local Rink Wins Grand Aggregate



A twenty-year old dream came true for Harold McKean last week when he and his curling rink, made up of Bill Attwood, lead, Ray Attwood, second; Billie McKean, third, won the Grand Aggregate at the Lethbridge Shirtsleeve Bonspiel. When Mrs. H. Feiger presented Harold with the James Aird Memorial Trophy on Saturday night, she told him that there was no rink she would rather have win it than the friend of her late father. To win the top spot in a field of 100 rinks is an accomplishment of which all four men can be justly proud

The foursome played sixteen games and came through with fourteen wins to have a clear margin over the Vulcan rink that had a score of 9 to 7. In their sixteen games the local men won the Eaton Trophy for their second consecutive year, and placed second in the Gas Company Event. Besides the Trophies, each man won a radio, an electric blanket and a solid silver vegetable dish with a monetary value of about one hundred and thirty dollars, but with a sentmental value far beyond that.

We doff our soiled old ski-cap to the best curlers in the land—Harold, Bill Ray and Billie.

The four men who made up the Karl Wilde rink are also to be commended for their curling ability. That rink with Jim Grant, lead; Wallace Wilde, second; brother Herbie, third; and other brother Karl skipping, won the third set of prizes. Very nice Indian sweaters in the Hotelmen's Event at the Lethbridge 'Spiel.

Again our hat comes off.

H. Melchin -- W. Wilde Elected to Council

Howard Melchin, the newcomer in Civic Elections, topped the polls on Monday when he received 181 votes. Wm. Wilde was re-elected to Council with 150 votes and Frank R. Taylor, who has been doing a fine job on the Town Council for the past six years was the third man on the slate, trail-Mr. Wilde by nine votes.

The total vote of 243 was much too light, as was last year's total of approximately 275, to indicate a satisfactory interest on the part of the taxpayers. Even if there is no contentious issue in the election, many more citizens should vote.

Wednesday evening a group of friends met at the home of Mrs. Reita Rasmussen where they visited and sewed quilt blocks. Patterns and materials for felt sewing bags, were studied and it was decided to make some at a later date.

A very tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

Mary Rasmussen was a special guest.

2nd Annual Bonspiel Gets Under Way

The Second Annual Invitational Bonspiel staged by the Raymond Curling Club got off to a fine start Wednesday morning when after listening to the Address of Welcome by Club President Heber Allen, Acting Mayor Renon Pack threw the first rock.

The Bonspiel, with 32 rinks participating, will continue on a 24 hour-a-day schedule until Saturday night when the top curlers will walk off with the Wilde Trophy, together with four individual awards and four Ronson Table Lighters. The Second rink will win four travelling irons; the third, four tresel tables and four silver Curling Rock butter dishes will go to the fourth rink in the First Event.

In the Second Event the Garagemen's Trophy with individual awards and four sweaters will go to the top rink with four novelty-horse Book-Ends for the second rink and four casting reels to the third, with the fourth award being four hamperette sets.

Four C. U. E. .22 Rifles, four travelling clocks, four tackle boxes and four hams make up the awards in the Third Event, and a special prize of four hunting knives will be given to the best match-dressed rink.

Sixteen local rinks with four from Magrath, four from Lethbridge, two from Taber, three from Warner, one from Sunburst and two from Picture Butte make up the bonspiel that is the first to be played on the new artificial ice which has been obtained through great efforts by Myron Holmes and his committee.

Karl Wilde is chairman of the Bonspiel with brothers Herbie and Wallace and Mel Depew making up the Committee. Draw secretaries are Renon Pack and Cliff Nalder. Harold McKean is the artist responsible for all signs, placards and posters. The Ice Committee, George Blair, chairman, Jack Evans and Red Williams have done a fine job with special mention going to Red Williams, ice maker, and Roy Shields who assisted him.

Competition is keen with the finer points of curling being displayed by some of the best rinks in the district. See next weeks paper for a list of rinks and the finals results.

Milton Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Taylor, recently left for a mission in New Zealand.

Raymond town is doing her share to fill the ranks of the RCAF. In recent weeks five native sons have joined that noble organization and are now stationed in Ontario. John Hudson and Walter Milner are at Camp Borden and Gordon Ralph, Mamoru Sugimoto and Keith Finch are at Aylmer.

An Invitation

G. N. Wells, International Harvester dealer is proud to announce that he, as a member of the I. H. Dealer organization, has been able to make arrangements to have a troupe from the Grosman Vaudeville Shows play here, at the Capitol Theatre, on Tuesday, March 13, at 2:30 p.m. Last year a troupe of Grosman performers presented an entirely different show and were a great success here. Mr. Wells wishes to extend a cordial invitation to one and all to be his guests at a really good old-fashioned vaudeville show.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zobell took Shirley Kinsey of Melchin Motors as far as Great Falls this morning on his way to Detroit where he will spend a month at a factory for an automotive tune-up course.

Two Accidents

Avard Hawkins, a former Raymond boy, had the unfortunate experience of having his own truck pin him to the door of a garage on Sunday afternoon. Avard, who works in Calgary for S. B. Card and Sons was about to put his truck in the garage and while attempting to open the doors, the truck rolled forward holding him against the door. A mechanic answered his cries and the injured man was rushed to the General Hospital where he received treatment for a severe gash on his right wrist.

After spending a couple of days in the Taber Hospital, Wilson Rolfson is again on his feet and has the happy feeling of being alive. Last Friday, while working for Southern Road on a bridge in the Grassy Lake area, Wilf left his nine-foot perch in a hurry and landed head-first into a snowbank. "Cud" has no recollection of any details, but says that other than a sore neck and back he is feeling OK. A fine thing to have around—a snowbank!

Four Queens At Green and Gold Ball

Three Queens from the Third Ward and one from the Second were crowned at impressive ceremonies on Saturday night in the Opera House when the two Wards joined to stage their Green and Gold Ball.

Marie Dahl, Elayne Salmon, Gertrude Anderson and Eileen Thompson as Queens, chose as their consorts Reid Zemp, Jim Anderson, Bob Greep and Dick Bowden. These girls were chosen by merit to represent their respective wards in this annual event.

As the Third Ward Queens came on the stage they were introduced by Gladys Holt and were crowned by Bob Salmon of the Third Ward Bishopric. Irene Bowden introduced the Queen of the Second Ward and Jim Harker of the Second Ward Bishopric, crowned her Queen. Each girl was presented with a piece of rhinestone jewellery to commemorate the occassion.

After the coronation the Queens moved down to the dance floor to meet their consorts and dance the Queens Waltz. Following this the Jr. M Men and Gleaners took the floor and presented, in three groups, the dance Nocturne, accompanied by Emma Dahl at the piano.

The beautifully decorated hall was then the scene of a very successful general dance.

Many hours were spent by members of the four Ward Mutuals to decorate the Opera House in the official colors of the MIA—green and gold. Two large candles on the stage predominated the decorations, representing the Gospel Light.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harris of Magrath were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Harris's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Anderson.

W. H. Zobell Honored On 74th Birthday

All of his children and their partners, fourteen in all, gathered Saturday night to honor Mr. W. H. Zobell on his 74th. Birthday. After a very delicious turkey dinner, the evening was spent in pleasant conversation. Pictures were taken to record this memorable occasion for the years to come. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Normans of Lethbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Garth Galbraith of Pincher Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hicken were visitors in Calgary for an enjoyable week-end last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. Martha Taylor, Mrs. Elsie Mitchell and Mrs. Frank Shaw.

Just Penning Thanks

(Margaret Huszar)

Comes time again for one of these weekly tirades. They tire you out and they add nothing.

Been snooping around the school, as usual, and besides getting my nose caught in a few doors, I picked up the latest dirt. Rumor has it that the school pins, etc, are coming soon. I hear, too, from official sources, that elections for the second term are just about due. Then we will enjoy a week of "Sadie Hawkins". That's the time when the gals show the boys how they should behave but don't and the girls don't know any more about it than the boys, so we have pandemonium. All in one breath too!

If your pride and joy comes home with rapt, romantic look on his or her face, there is no cause for alarm. He probably just got banged on the head and she had a view of that devine Mohawk, Marcus. Seriously, though, it is more likely because they envisage themselves holidaying in heavenly Honolulu. Oh, Oh, 'cuse me! Well there is an essay contest open to all High School students and the grand prize is a trip to Honolulu. I hear that many of the kids in school are going to have a crack at it. Good luck, kids!

Peeked into the Hi-Times (any more you-know-what left?) and saw the staff industriously arguing about the time of day. We may (mind you, I said may) have a Hi-Times again soon.

Cheerio until next week!

Mrs. Marie Smith of Provo, Utah is visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Hicken.

Capitol Theatre News

All Technicolor Week

Coming to the Capitol on Monday and Tuesday is one of the seasons smartest and joyful pictures, It stars Donald O'Connor and Gail Storm. The plot is different with its background the great outdoors, and with the Technicolor it assures our patrons of an evening of happy entertainment.

On Wednesday and Thursday John Mills and Dereck Bond are teamed in another Technicolor hit "Scott of the Antartic". In addition to the historical part of this attraction it has an excellent story and plot and the stars portrayals will win your sympathy with their brilliant acting.

Friday and Saturday brings the first showing in Southern Alberta of "The Great Missiuri Raid". This outstanding picture depicts the action which took place years ago when the Missouri Railroad system was constantly raided; a condition that was stamped out only after sacrifices had been made. It is the stirring saga of this historical epic, and has for its stars Wendell Corey and MacDonald Carey. Do not miss this most excellent motion picture.

Serving one of Canada's richest irrigated mixed farming districts.

We had an "editorial" in mind to voice our views of the pitiful lack of enthusiasm on the part of the electors in our recent civic election, but in reading "Free and Otherwise" in a paper published by the Canadian Manufacturers Assoc. Inc., we decided to reprint their article with this added observation.

There are approximately 1,000 men and women on the voter's list. On Monday, February 26, only 243 of them thought it worthwhile to pay a two minute visit to the Town Hall where they could have availed themselves of the opportunity —and priviledge—and duty of taking an active part in the government of THEIR town. The polls were open from ten a.m. until seven p.m.—nine hours to have 243 ballots cast!

We agree wholeheartedly with the man when he says that when a person has no vote he wants one. We wonder if it might not be a good idea to put severe restrictions on the right to vote, for example: Inform the citizens that if they don't exercise their franchise this year, they will not have the opportunity to do so in the next election. Maybe this move would bring the desired results.

We hope that we have caused some of you people to think seriously about your duty and responsibility. Next time do yourself and your neighbor a good turn—vote as you like, but vote!

Free and Otherwise

Wherever one stands on this peculiar globe, a vote is a funny thing.

Take Canada, for instance. If a man hasn't got a vote, he wants one. If you don't believe that, just go to a polling booth at election time and hear the squawks of people who want to vote on a money by-law and find they haven't a ballot because they are not property owners.

If he has got a vote, he's very proud of it, but a lot of the time he keeps it in mothballs. That's funny, too, because although the right to vote is a reasonably permanent possession, an unused vote is about as valuable as a ticket to last week's show.

Now take a vote in the Allied sector of Berlin. There it has a strange and shining lustre. Some weeks ago, the Communists staged a violent campaign against participation in voting for a new Berlin house of deputies. The anti-Communists, armed with the free and secret vote, burnished to a brightness unseen in our part of the world, cocked a super-snook at the Marxists; 1,504,414 of 1,664,091 eligible Berlin voters—90.4 per cent of them—took advantage of their ballot.

A vote in Roumania is quite unlike a Berlin vote. While the West Berliners were flexing their muscles, the Roumanians, too, were voting. Under the gimlet eye of the secret police and Russian troops, they gave rubber stamp approval to the only people they could vote for—the Communist candidates.

In Hungary, voting could be construed as a jolly affair. Cultural brigades dash around ensuring a husky poll by visiting every house and calling upon the tenants to vote with the aid of comic songs and witty poems. Their version of the Canadian "Vote as you like, but vote!" must be "Vote as we like, but laugh!"

Yes, it's strange indeed. In some countries, where there is no choice, the voters are practically forced to vote. In others, where there is a choice —and with that choice, responsibility —the eligible voters are conspicuous by their fewness. And, because the gift of free speech generally walks hand in dand with the free and secret ballot, the absentees on voting day are usually the most articulate about their government, or the lack of it.

As we said before, and we repeat it sadly, a vote is a funny thing.

A Canadian chemist says that kissing began when the cave man sought salt. He found that he could get salt by licking his neighbor's cheek. He found it was more enjoyable when the neighbor was of the opposite sex. Then he forgot all about salt.

For Parents Only

By Nancy Cleaver

"Don't Be a Coward"

"Paul, don't be coward. See how well Tom can ski. What if you do have a tumble? You won't hurt yourself."

No parent wants his child to be a coward. How often a father is annoyed at his son's hesitation to risk physical harm in outdoor activity! He wants his boy to excel in sports and not be a "sissy".

How can Paul's father help his boy? Shaming him by his chum's prowess likely won't work. Urging him against his will to take a jump or go down the big slide will only meet with resistance. Paul's father will have to give him encouragement and build up the boy's confidence gradually. A little praise is a help, so long as Paul is making a real effort and showing some improvement.

Long before a child reaches school age, parents are puzzled as to how to help them to be courageous. There are only two fears which seem to come into the world with an infant — the rest are acquired. Babies are startled by the sensation of falling and by loud noises. Small children show fear of various things — the dark, animals, thunder and lightning. Sometimes they have had bad dreams about wild animals or burglars.

One of the best ways parents can give a child practical help is by listening to him while he talks about the things that scare him. At bed-time, when he is feeling secure and has Mummy all to himself, often a youngster will confide in her his fears. The opportunity to bring his troubles out into the open, often makes them seem not nearly so terrifying.

Parents should not use fear to make a child behave with such threats as: "If you do that again the Big Policeman will catch you" or "The Bogey Man will get you if you are bad". Too severe physical punishment is another basis for lack of courage.

It is true that a certain amount of fear is necessary for safety. A child should be taught the danger of being run down on a busy street or of being burned if he plays with matches. He should be trained to "Stop, Look and Listen" before he steps onto the road and he should be shown the proper fire precautions.

But there are many un-necessary fears which some people are burdened with all through life, such as fear of water. The "strong arm" method of

Patterns for Spring — Slim with Variations

Patterns are the foundation of fashion in home sewing and the new spring patterns have enough variety and beauty to please everyone. Although most styles are based on the slim silhouette, there are some full and slightly flared skirts. Fullness is added to many pencil-slim skirts by apron effects, peplums, pleated panels and overskirts. A few patterns feature the trumet skirt, smooth and slim to just above the knees, it then flares out to the hemline. Choose this only if you are very slim otherwise it is likely to make your hipline appear rather wide. The lampshade skirt is another modification of the slim skirt This type is fitted to the hipline and softly flared below.

National Sew and Save Week, March 3 to 10, when stores throughout the country will highlight their sewing department is a good time to shop for your spring sewing requirements. If you are an inexperienced sewer you'll find it especially helpful. For during Sew and Save Week most stores will offer many valuable services to the home sewer such as sewing classes, fashion shows and cutting services. In several cities pattern com pany stylists will be there to answer questions and to help you straighten out any sewing problems you may encounter.

If you haven't done much sewing it's a good idea to choose an easy pattern. Some particularly simple to sew patterns are designed each season by the various pattern companies for the benefit of beginners. These special styles are marked in the catalogues and on the pattern envelopes.

Patterns, today, are much easier to work with than the patterns of several years ago. The directions and construction drawings are clearer, the printed pattern markings facilitate your work and the longer lists of fabric suggestions make it easier for you to choose your material.

You'll find marked on the pattern envelope also, a list of notions you'll need. By the way, while we're on the subject of notions here's a word to the wise. It will save you time and trouble if you shop for your threads, zippers, buttons, shoulder pads etc at the same time as you buy your material. One trip to the store to buy your pattern, material and your notions and you have everything on hand. No waiting around to finish your dress get downtown for the buckle and buttons you need.

The earliest paper to be made in Utah was formed by hand by Thomas Howard, an English Mormon, assisted by Thomas Hollis. The small beginning was sponsored by Brigham Young and the Mormon Church. The original equipment for the handmade paper mill was converted from beet-sugar machinery, which furnished the rag-cutter and hydraulic press. The first sheets of paper were produced on June 27, 1854, and probably found their original use in the printing of the "Desert News" Brigham Young's newspaper, which began publication in Great Salt Lake City, June 15, 1850.

Patterns for Spring

When buying a pattern go by your bust measurement. Even if the waist and hip measurement differs slightly from your own you'll find it easier to adjust the pattern at these two points rather than through the bodice. Some ladies who are not very tall will not require quite as much material as the pattern calls for. However, don't try to guess how much less to buy. Often the pattern envelope will tell you that if the pattern is to be made two inches shorter you will require one eighth of a yard less material. So if this information is given it is quite safe to buy less than the pattern calls for. Otherwise don't play any guessing games. You'll hate yourself if you arrive home with your pattern and your material only to find that you've skimped too much and you haven't enough material to allow for the collar, cuffs and facing or to have buttons covered.

Plan to look over the wonderful range of 1951 patterns during National Sew and Save Week. You couldn't choose a better time to shop for your requirements for that spring and summer wardrobe.
